Industrial Climate Shows Some Very Healthy Signs

By Robert E. Finneran
Editor

Andover's investments in providing utilities to its industrial areas had dividends showing this week and with it a brighter hue to the town's tax picture.

Major developments included:

- Announcement by Instrumentation Laboratories of Lexington, of intent to acquire 50 acres of industrial land north of the Gillette plant in Lowell Junction.
- Initial approval of an application by Cressey-Dockham, wholesale food distributor in Lowell Junction for a $2.75 million loan through the Industrial Finance Authority for a 150,000 foot addition to its warehouse.
- Request for information from an engineering firm interested in locating regional offices here.

Joseph R. Costello, vice president of Instrumentation Laboratories, met with selectmen and the town manager Monday night to discuss water and sewer needs for their proposed Lowell Junction development.

Technical problems revolve around maintenance of a sewer pump station and force main in a public way. Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark suggested appointment of a committee to meet with Costello to review the matter, and this was scheduled for Wednesday afternoon. Selectmen Albert Cole and James Abramson, Industrial Development Commissioner George Fantini, DPW Director Robert McQuade were to meet with Costello to go over details.

The IL vice president was seeking an answer as soon as possible in order that the company can move ahead with its construction plans.

Costello told the TOWNSMAN that the firm, manufacturer of biomedical and analytical instruments, could accommodate up to 600,000 square feet of buildings and approximately 3,000 people.

Planned initially is a 120,000 square foot building with a cost estimate of $3,600,000. The building would house research and development facilities, manufacturing and office space.

Costello said he would like to begin construction as soon as possible. He said that the firm has experienced dramatic growth in recent years and is in need of additional facilities. The Andover plot is most suitable to their needs.

One problem which was presented Monday was the possible access road to the industrial area from Route 93. One of the locations of the road is near the IL property, and Costello expressed concern noting that an "interchange would impact on our thoughts about the future."

But, Dr. Lawrence Spiegel, chairman of the Industrial Development Commission advised that the access road has been discussed for some time with nothing concrete coming forward at the moment. He was high in his praise of IL noting it was the type of industry Andover was desirous of obtaining. He pointed to the $66.2 million in sales last year as being indicative of the stability of the 19-year-old company.

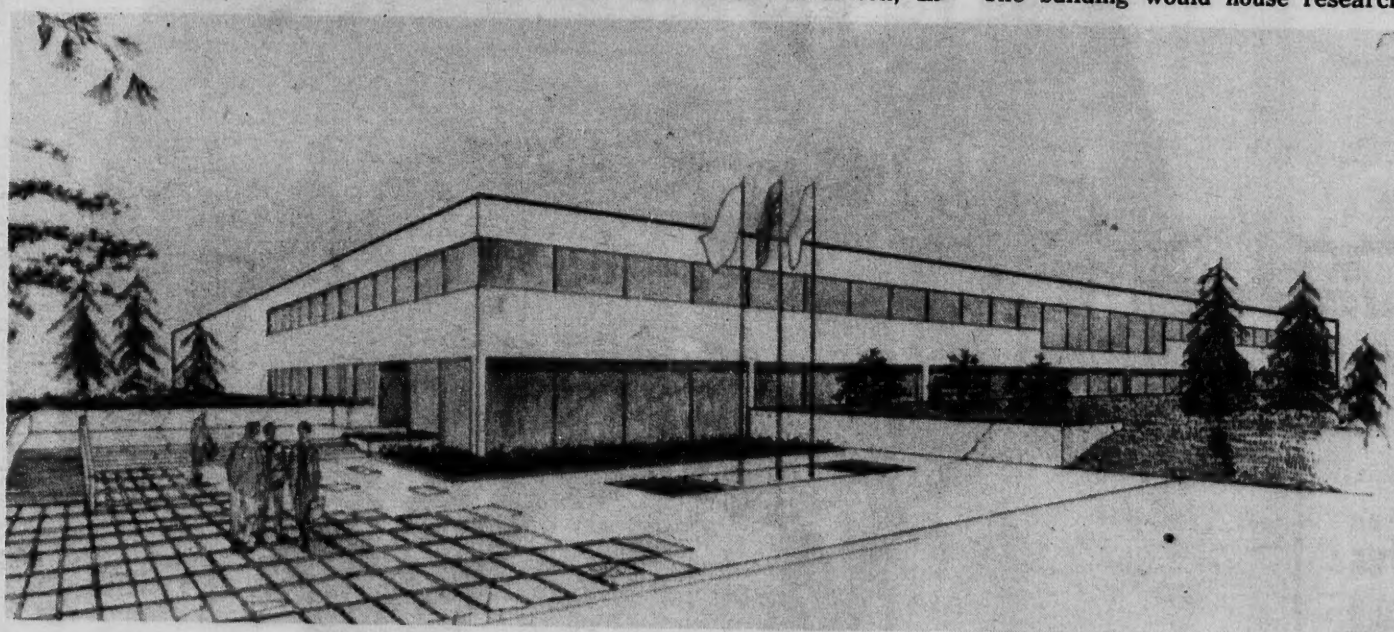

Currently the company has manufacturing facilities in Lexington, Watertown, Woburn and Wilmington; Spokane, Wash.; Milan, Italy; Hersel, West Germany; Manchester, England and Cidra, Puerto Rico. It employs 1,900 worldwide.

Approval For Loan

While this matter was before the selectmen, the recently named Industrial Finance Authority was meeting in the library to review the Cressey-Dockham application.

Dr. Spiegel, who serves on that board, also, arranged for C-D representatives to meet with William P. Tsaffarass, chief counsel for the state department of commerce and development and who assists in the processing of such applications.

Spiegel, Fantini and George Ziady, discussed the plans with Peter F. Carpentier,

Tax Rate Held Up By State

Andover's tax rate with its $5 projected increase, won't be set for another week or two, due to possible differences in what the town is to receive in state aid to education.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark informed selectmen Monday night that it was hoped that the tax rate could be set on or before Sept. 5, until the difference in entitlements was detected.

Clark said that Al Maguire, school department business manager, was currently going over the figures to see if some errors had been made at the state level. The manager indicated that several other school systems are faced with similar problems, and is checking the matter out at the state level.

Due to the discrepancy, tax rate setting and subsequent billing will probably not be done now until the second or third week in September and making taxes payable by Oct. 30. It had been hoped to establish an Oct. 15 payment date.

There is also the possibility that with the lateness of the billing and payments, the town may have to borrow in anticipation of taxes to meet obligations in November.

Garrett In New Quarters

The Garrett Players, a well-established theatre company in the Merrimack Valley, will be moving into new facilities during the next two months.

The company, which has been operating out of the Bavarian Hall at 41 Knox St., Lawrence, for the past six years, will remain at this location for the opening production of their 1978-79 season, "Equus."

Construction and renovation work has already begun at the new home for the Garrett Players, the Garrett Off-Broadway Theatre. All the design plans having been completed, work crews are now busy with the major jobs of painting, making electrical modifications, and construction which are involved in converting an auditorium into a theatre. After some of the major tasks have been completed, The Garrett will begin to move the equipment, staging, props and costumes they have been accumulating since their beginning some seventeen years ago.

The Garrett Off-Broadway Theatre will be located at 232 Lowell St., Lawrence. This move is a major advance in the growth of the Garrett since the seating capacity will be 200 more people per show over their present capacity, bringing the new audience capacity to approximately 400.

Mrs. Poore Will Lead Our Crew

Selectman Susan T. Poore was the only volunteer to man the helm in a regatta scheduled for Lowell Sept. 15-18.

The board had received a letter from the Lowell Regatta Celebration committee requesting a sailing crew from among local officials to participate in the event.

With considerable reluctance to accept the invitation coming from among her colleagues, Mrs. Poore said she would represent the town and seek volunteers from among the school committee and finance committee. Supt. of Schools Kenneth R. Seifert is also expected to be asked to join the crew which could include Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark. The manger's advance credentials included being a sometime Sunday sailor.

Bonds Issued At Aaa Rating Equivalent

Selectmen signed three notes of $100,000 each Monday night for short term borrowing to underwrite projects approved at the annual town meeting.

The notes issued by BayBank Merrimack Valley carried a 3.58 per cent interest rate, which the board was informed is equivalent to or better than an Aaa rating by bond companies.

The notes are in anticipation of permanent financing for improvements to Shawsheen water mains, Fish Brook pumping station and architectural services for new school construction.

Lead Paint Testing Program

the Andover Public Health Department in cooperation with the Greater Lawrence Community Action Council, Inc. Lead Poisoning Prevention Program will be doing door to door testing in Andover during the last week of August and all of September.

The test is done free, and the parents will be able to get the results the next day by calling their office at 683-9575. In addition, a child may be tested any day at their office at 11 Lawrence St., Lawrence from 9 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., and at the Andover Health Department Clinics held twice a month.

Marketing Program Underway

The Merrimack Valley Regional Transit Authority (MVRTA) will begin a five-month marketing and promotional program to increase ridership in the Lawrence area. Announcement of the marketing program was made by William Schultz, Administrator of MVRTA.

Schultz also announced that Urban Transportation Systems Associates (UTSA) of Newton, has been retained to develop and execute the marketing program. Assisting UTSA in the project will be FitzGerald-Toole & Co., Inc., of Providence, R.I., an advertising and public relations agency.

According to Schultz, the marketing program will encourage greater use of transit service through the development of information services such as route maps, schedules, and a new telephone information service. "MVRTA will conduct an advertising campaign and will work with local merchant groups to develop cooperative promotions and services," he said.

MVRTA became involved in the Lawrence bus service in November of 1977 and has provided operating funds since that time to the local bus operator, Trombly Motor Coach Service, Inc. in order to maintain the level of service.

A study is currently underway by MVRTA and the Merrimack Valley Planning Commission to determine what service improvements and expansions are necessary in the Lawrence area. Schultz said that the study is being conducted in conjunction with the development of the marketing program.

Bird Show

Peter Alden, a worldwide birder, will be showing his "Birds of Perm" slide show Monday, Sept. 11 at 7:45 at the Barn at the Mass Audubon Ipswich River Wildlife Sanctuary in Topsfield.

Phone Rates Changed

New rates for Massachusetts residents who temporarily suspend telephone service in their homes, went into effect Aug. 15.

The Department of Public Utilities (DPU) recently approved a New England Telephone proposal to charge a flat rate of $4.50 per month for suspended residential telephone service. Currently, customers are billed at half the regular monthly rate for service which is determined by the type of service and the number of phones. With the new rates, all residence customers using suspended service will pay the same monthly charge.

Customers at seasonal residences most commonly request service suspension which retains telephone service and equipment at a specified location during a time when service is not needed.

Although service is disconnected at the central office, the customer keeps the telephone equipment, line and directory listing. Service can be restored promptly without a visit by a company employee to the premise.

New England Telephone has provided suspension of service for its customers since 1925.

Its Time To Seed Lawns

From now until mid-September is the best time of the year to build a successful lawn, according to specialists at the Essex Agricultural and Technical Institute. The soil is warm and thus conducive to better germination than in the spring. With proper watering and soil warmth, conditions are optimum for growth of grass. A bonus for the grower is that there is less apt to be competition from weeds since at this time of season weed seeds are not as active.

Also, by getting the seeding done at this time there will be several months of growing weather before winter finally halts the growth of the grass. Add to this several months of growth the following spring before hot weather occurs and you have about six good months of weather conducive to good growth. A spring-planted lawn has to go through adverse conditions right from the start — cold air, cold soil, germinating weeds, and possible drought at a time when the seedlings are very weak and shallow-rooted.

A free copy of "Lawn Maintenance Information" is available on request to Extension Editor, Essex Agricultural & Technical Institute, Hathorne, MA 01937.

School First

In 1836 the first state law restricting child labor was enacted in Massachusetts. It stated that no child under the age of 15 shall work in "manufacturing establishments" unless the child attended school for at least three of the 12 months preceding any year of employment. In 1842, enforcement provisions were added to the legislation, according to the U.S. Department of Labor publication,

Regional Agency Won't Be Dumped Out On The Street

The regional library isn't about to be bounced frivolously out onto Essex street from its theater building location.

This was promised Memorial Hall library trustees and the Friends of the Library Monday night by selectmen and Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark.

At the moment, the Eastern Regional Library service, a state agency, is scheduled to lose its theater building location, due to relocation of municipal offices.

But, selectmen and the manager would like to assist the regional agency in relocating in Andover if possible, or at best, making some financial arrangements to make their move more amenable.

The town manager over a month ago introduced a plan to relocate municipal offices to accommodate the newly created Department of Community Development and make room for the new data processing system due by December. The DCD would occupy the second floor of the Essex street building, resulting in a consolidation of such offices as planning, conservation, building, health, and such agencies directly involved in the town's planning and growth. The Andover Haven senior citizen center, would be moved to the first floor of the Theater building. The new computer machinery would be placed in the town hall, thus centralizing the town's financial operations there.

Monday night, Mrs. Connie Lemaitre, chairman of the library trustees presented that board's plea for continued use of the theater building for storage. She said it was necessary for the library to retain the 2400 square feet of space, particularly in view of no library additions contemplated for some time.

The town library storage is to be retained on the first floor with the Haven facilities.

Mrs. Lemaitre also said that the 2600 square feet used by the regional library was desirable, and brought here to share with Andover residents and all those in the area.

Trustee Frederick S. Allis, former chairman of the board, appealed to the selectmen for retention of the regional library, feeling that the town had a moral obligation to the service, "not to throw it out on the street."

Allis commented on the value of libraries and particularly Memorial Hall which has a statewide reputation. He felt the town's obligation, while not legal, was to treat the regional library fairly and find adequate facilities for the agency.

Mrs. Norma C. Cipro, president of the Friends of the Library, noting the library had the fifth highest used rate in the state, asked if it were proper to ignore the vote of the October, 1975 town meeting which appropriated funds for purchase of the theater building for the library.

Mrs. Cipro also commented on the opening of a town hall branch on Essex street, creating parking problems, sacrificing the library for new departments and pitting library needs against the desire for a computer.

Selectman Virginia Cole addressed some of the points when she informed the library people that the purchase of the theater building, while advocated by the trustees, was not solely for the library. It was to protect the library property and provide for a future addition.

Mrs. Cole said she advocated placing the Haven in the theater building, along with other agencies, since the town was paying rent for quarters at the time.

She said she did not feel voters at town meeting bought the building for a library, and advised Clark in that regard, "so don't blame him."

As for new departments, Mrs. Cole noted that there are no new departments being created, but a consolidation of agencies, and the move to Essex street is a recognition of the pressing need for office space.

She said she hoped that the library storage space would be retained there, and that some accommodation in Andover can be made for the regional library.

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said that he had been in contact with the director of the regional library service and that as soon as the latter's vacation is completed, the matter will be addressed further.

Clark said that if other facilities can be found in Andover, then he would recommend some funds to make the building area suitable for their use.

Clark had once suggested use of the Cardinal Cushing gymnasium but at the time regional officials were not in favor of that site.

The manager also said that if the regional agency had to move, then some financial arrangements would be made as far as rent is concerned.

Clark currently is seeking an extension of a grant of $33,000 by the federal government for renovations at the Haven, which, if allowed would be for a six-month period. Arrival of the computer is anticipated in December.

The manager later described the library trustees plea as "reasonable. We will try to find a location for the regional library while considering our alternatives. We will try to keep the regional library here, if at all possible."

He noted that the town's capital investment in Lowell Junction and West Andover industrial parks, places the town in a good position to benefit from major industrial development.

In the past decade, Andover town meetings have provided funds for utility extensions and some road improvements to the Lowell Junction area as well as to the West Andover area, owned mostly by Arkwright-Boston Insurance Co. The town also provided zoning and utility improvements for the new Raytheon plant in West Andover.

Book On Salem History

The trustees of the Essex Institute and Historic Salem, Inc. will officially co-sponsor publication of an illustrated guidebook to the most significant surviving architecture of Salem. Scheduled to be published in the winter or spring of 1980, the book will be intended for a wide audience available in both soft and hard cover, and modestly priced.

The Salem architectural guidebook project was initiated in 1974 by Essex Institute director and librarian Bryant F. Tolles, Jr. He will write the text and do the bulk of the photography for the volume. His wife Carolyn, executive secretary for Historic Salem, has done most of the supportive research.

They collaborated on a similar project in 1972-75 which will result in the publication later this year of New Hampshire Architecture: An Illustrated Guide. The Salem book was inspired by the New Hampshire undertaking, by the obvious richness of Salem's architectural history, and by historic preservation concern.

Oils Course

A six-week oil painting course will be held beginning Monday, Oct. 2, 9-12 a.m. at the rooms of the Andover Bay State Bank with Robert Benham, Gloucester seascapist.

Joseph J. Reilly, III

Summer Intern

Joseph J. Reilly, III, the son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph J. Reilly, Jr. of 6 Olympia Way, worked as a legislative intern for State Sen. Robert D. Wetmore of the Worcester, Franklin, Hampden, and Hampshire Districts this summer.

A senior from Holy Cross, Reilly was one of 12 students in the Senate Summer Internship Program run by the State House Office of Legislative Education Services. The students helped draft legislation for the next session, attended committee meetings, answered constituency requests, wrote press releases and conducted legal research.

Weekly seminars organized by the interns were an important part of the seven-week program. Reilly worked on a seminar in which Attorney General Francis X. Bellotti spoke to the interns about his office and its relationship with the Legislature.

Reilly says, the program has been of great help to him in dealing with the state government, and has given him an important perspective of the people within the government, and of the specific problems which they encounter in carrying out their legislative duties.

He plans to pursue a law degree.

Worldwide seaweed harvest is 1.7 million metric tons, worth half a billion dollars, Massachusetts Audubon says. Seaweed contains thickeners (agar, algin, carrageen) used in toothpaste, milk, ice cream, pudding, soap, paint, polishes, pill coverings and in sizing for clothing.

Critical Of Postal Officials

Postal officials had to again postpone meeting with selectmen to discuss local service this week, causing the board to request some action through congressional representatives.

It was the second time that George Walker, regional director and J. Santos of the U.S. Postal Service has postponed a planned get together with the board and Selectman James Abramson was particularly irritated.

"This is the second time they have failed to meet with us, and the service in Andover continues to deteriorate. Let's send letters to our congressmen and senators and see if we can get some action.

"Box mail was not ready until after 10:30 this morning," Abramson said, expressing concern over the continued decline in deliveries in Andover.

His colleagues concurred in the suggestion of sending off letters to the congressional delegation and added that the board would make itself available to the postal officials during daytime hours, if that would be more convenient.

Increases Approved

Selectmen approved a transfer of $152,921 from the compensation fund Monday night in order to provide a five per cent salary increase for independent municipal employees and to meet contractual agreements with municipal bargaining units.

The five per cent increase for independent employees includes those not covered by union contracts, such as department heads, clerks and town hall employees.

Included in the total transfer were amounts to meet agreements reached through collective bargaining with the fire department and the department of public works within the past year.

All salary increases are retroactive to July 1.

general counsel for C-D, who informed them of the need for the 150,000 square foot expansion due to growth of the business.

The local authority members expressed general approval for the loan, but must formally organize before processing the application further. This will be accomplished next Tuesday night.

The application then goes to the selectmen for their approval, then on to the state industrial financing authority.

The procedure allows for expansion and relocation of industry in communities through obtaining of loans from financial institutions at better interest rates. The method meets IRS tax codes for issuing of bonds by banks at better interest rates and can also provide for 100 per cent financing.

Dr. Spiegel said that probably C-D would be back in another year seeking approval for another $1 million to construct an automated warehouse at their Lowell Junction location.

Inquiry

Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark said Wednesday that an engineering firm had expressed more than a passing interest in locating regional offices in Andover in the near future.

He said the Andover facilities would be small in comparison to the other two major developments this week, but a welcome addition to Andover's industrial community.

The manager said that he felt that if the economy remains healthy, Andover might expect a moderate capital development within industrial areas.

He noted that the town's capital investment in Lowell Junction and West Andover industrial parks, places the town in a good position to benefit from major industrial development.

In the past decade, Andover town meetings have provided funds for utility extensions and some road improvements to the Lowell Junction area as well as to the West Andover area, owned mostly by Arkwright-Boston Insurance Co. The town also provided zoning and utility improvements for the new Raytheon plant in West Andover.

Hunneman Joins Service

According to Office Manager Margaret C. Dalrymple, this represents the first efforts of Meredith Corp., publishers of the 56-year-old home and family magazine, to license use of the Better Homes and Gardens name with affiliated local firms.

Robert Livermore, Jr., president of Hunneman, says his Boston-based company's "history of responsible service in residential real estate for nearly 50 years made us a candidate for this new program. Through our association we will be able to offer a wider range of benefits for our customers."

Hot Air Balloon Joins Oktoberfest

The Busch hot air balloon will be featured at the Exchange Club's Oktoberfest in Lawrence over the Labor Day weekend.

The balloon will be available for display and demonstration Saturday and Sunday from 2 to 8 p.m.

The Oktoberfest will be held in a huge tent at Lawrence's Municipal Parking Lot, next to the Central Bridge. There will be Oktoberfest beer and wine, German food and continuous music provided by Paula's Gesant Verein Lyre Band. Souvenir booths will be run by the Exchangettes, wives of Exchange Club members.

Oktoberfest formally opens at 6 p.m. tomorrow, when the first keg of beer is tapped. It will continue until midnight tomorrow, and then Saturday and Sunday from 2 p.m. until midnight.

The 'Oktoberfest is a take-off on the German celebration, a national institution since 1810 staged annually for 16 days in mid-September. The Lawrence Exchange Club has made the Oktoberfest its main project, and over the past five years, close to $30,000 in proceeds has been turned back to the community.

The Cerebral Palsy Clinic in Lawrence has been a major recipient of financial support, but substantial monies have also been donated to the Shriner's Burns Scholarship Fund.

Tickets for Oktoberfest may be purchased from any Exchange Club member. For further information, contact Oktoberfest chairman Frank Duci, Co-chairman Robert Perrault, or Publicity chairman Michael Costello.

Grant For Co-op Program

Merrimack College has received a $30,000 grant from the Herman Goldman Foundation of New York City to provide assistance in completing the implementation of the cooperative engineering program.

The coop plan allows students to continue education toward a Baccalaureate degree through the concept of "earning while learning."

At present, 39 students participate in the Cooperative Civil and Electrical Engineering Program at Merrimack. This number is expected to increase over the years.

Money from the grant will be utilized for scholarships as well as for recruiting students. Scholarship money will help to defray costs incurred by freshmen students who must attend classes for three consecutive semesters before they begin their first work period.

Church Plans Special Youth Curriculum

the Unitarian Universalist Church of Andover, at 244 Lowell St., has announced a youth religious education curriculum for 1978-79 that is best termed "a return to the liberal basics."

Dr. Randolph Lehman-Becker, director of religious education explains this dual nature of being both liberal and basic: "In religion, by liberal we mean that we are open to insight, inspiration, and challenge from any source, without restrictions of creed, dogma, or limited definitions of scripture or heritage. By basics, we mean that we look for those sources in all religions and cultures that encourage one to ask the moral questions of life."

Fifth and sixth graders will study "Making My Life," a look at the issues of decision making and the problems of freedom and responsibility, as they attempt to find foundations for answers to the question "How should I Live?"

Third and fourth graders will look to "The Roots of Culture," interactions with the stories and symbols which informed the ancient cultures as well as their own, in an attempt to gain insight into the valuing process of various people and times.

First and second graders will meet some time-honored ideas through people like Elijah, Harriett Tubman, John the Baptist, Confucius, Martin Luther King in "Adventures of God's Folk."

Four and five-year-olds will seek to expand their world outward in terms of feelings, family, friends, nature, fears, wonders, and other experiences in "Polliwog."

In addition to these classes, the program will have Nursery Care for the youngest participants, and a program of activities and special forums for junior and senior highers.

As well, all the children from four years through sixth grade will take part in weekly arts interactions. Part of the Sunday morning activities will include many arts, from music to clay, acting to painting. This new program is an attempt to help the children realise some of the inspiration of life from experience, not just from classroom settings.

The program begins at 10:30 a.m. each Sunday, beginning Sept. 10. The Unitarian Universalist Church welcomes children of all ages and backgrounds. While a nominal registration fee is charged, guests are invited to join with us for a month without fee.

The program was designed in conjunction with Dr. Lehman-Becker by the Religious Education Committee, Robert Genier of North Reading, chairman, with Frani Lane, Nancy Mulvey, Judy Malakoff and David Young of Andover, and Joan and Michael Paribello of Haverhill.

The church office is open weekday mornings for further information.

Kenneth Wilson will open his concert with "Nightsbridge March" (London Suite.) Also included are "Saraband," "The Last Rhapsody," Johann Strauss' "A Waltz Fantasy," selections from Camelot and an Excerpt from the finale ("New World" symphony by Dvorak.)

Jewish Fellowship Plans Religious School

The Andover Jewish Fellowship announces the opening of its Thursday afternoon religious school for children ages 5 to 10.

Cherie Koller-Fox, principal of the Harvard Hillel Children's School, has been hired by the fellowship to teach the alternative school, which will present a fresh approach to Jewish education.

"Jewish education can be intellectually challenging and fun," said the 31-year-old Akron, Ohio native. "It doesn't have to be the way it was when we all suffered through it as children," she continued.

Ms. Koller-Fox, a doctoral candidate in Jewish education at Harvard University, has been principal of the Harvard Hillel school for three years. She also served as the head teacher of the Beth El Temple Center, Belmont, for five years.

A member of the national board of the Coalition for Alternatives in Jewish Education, Ms. Koller-Fox has written and spoken extensively about Jewish education.

One of the guiding principles of the school is that children should be free to explore and question Jewish history, principles and ethics for themselves. Free from ties to a traditional Jewish discipline, be it reform, orthodox or conservative, the school's founders hope to reinforce the children's feelings that it is good to be Jewish and to be proud of their cultural heritage.

Parents will be encouraged to be actively involved in the education of their children, by building a Sukkoh and holding a communal feast in the finished structure, or by helping in the planning and administration of the school itself.

The school's philosophy includes a belief that children are part of the larger community, and they cannot be educated apart from their elders. A sense of responsibility for others and of being part of the long history of the Jews, past, present and future, will be a part of the school's curriculum.

The school's curriculum will include units on history, ethics, Bible stories and the Jewish festivals.

For further information call Bruce Abrams or Jim Grotta.

Children's Room News

By Ann Moriarty

Our summer programming has come to an end, but not without having some very exciting moments! Mrs. Hooten and Mrs.

Moriarty want to thank everyone who participated in our very successful reading clubs. If you did not receive your reading certificate and actively participated in a club, please stop by the Children's Room to pick one up. Mrs. Bennett wishes to thank all of those who came to our summer Littlest Listeners. This year's program was one of our most successful and enjoyable. Especially exciting was our Stuffed Animal Pet Show in which 35 children entered their favorite stuffed animal. Everyone was a winner — whether it was for the "longest tail," "nicest name," or "most cuddly."

Start thinking of Fall Programs because around the time that school starts, we will be issuing our schedule of fall events. Call us at 475-6960.

Bob Buell will continue to work in the Saltonstall tradition.

Bob Buell cares about the same issues Bill Saltonstall cares about. The same issues you care about. Like the right to retain and control your own personal income — not letting it be eaten away by big government's big sounding ideas. And Bob Buell believes in the right of Home Rule for cities and towns — that big government shouldn't be allowed to dictate local policies. And Bob Buell believes in putting a stop to stupidly wasteful government spending — the pouring of your tax dollars down a rathole of so-called government "services." For years, Bill Saltonstall and Bob Buell have fought for these beliefs. Let Bob Buell continue the fight as your State Senator.

JACK ANDERSON WITH JOE SPEAR WEEKLY SPECIAL

House Speaker 'Tip' O'Neill: D.C.'s 2nd Most Powerful Man

WASHINGTON — House Speaker Thomas "Tip" O'Neill has emerged as the second most powerful man in Washington. The big, rumped Irishman has the respect of his colleagues.

His natural environment is a smoke-filled back room. He enthusiastically contributes to the pollution by blowing out great billows of cigar smoke. His massive bulk always dominates the room, with his white mane the most visible landmark through the smog.

The bear-hugging, back-slapping O'Neill has three basic beliefs — the Catholic faith, the Democratic Party and his divine right to make political deals.

He chewed out President Carter for failing to consult him before appointing Elliot Richardson as a maritime negotiator. It seems that Richardson was a political rival of O'Neill's back in Boston.

O'Neill then shoved down the president's throat a Massachusetts crony named Robert Griffin. Carter kept Griffin on as deputy to General Services Administrator Jack Eckerd. This helped to precipitate Eckerd's resignation.

Then the new administrator, Jay Solomon, threatened to quit over Griffin. Both administrators complained that Griffin was obstructing their efforts to clean up the agency.

This time Carter got rid of Griffin. But the enraged O'Neill raised such a howl that the president hastily appointed Griffin to a new job as a White House trade specialist.

Now O'Neill is pushing another Boston buddy, John McGarry, for Federal Election Commissioner. The job pays $50,000 a year. More importantly, it would give him jurisdiction over congressional campaign financing.

In other words, the Speaker is behind the appointment of the man who will police his fund-raising activities. In the past, O'Neill has raised hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Apparently, he didn't need the money for his own campaign. He seldom has serious opposition. Instead, he spread the boodle around to key Democrats, whose support he needs in the House.

The vouchers also show that O'Neill spent thousands of dollars on car repairs, expensive meals, parties, gifts and unitemized air fares. At one party paid for out of his campaign chest, O'Neill gave away 50 silver champagne buckets as party favors.

A spokesman for O'Neill has denied any impropriety. But the Speaker's choice for Federal Elections Commissioner came under fire over his finances.

The General Accounting Office's tax expert, Reka Hoff, completed a secret report on McGarry's income tax returns. The report raised questions on the propriety and legality of McGarry's tax deductions.

The Senate Rules Committee notified the White House of the alleged improprieties. This could lead to another confrontation between President Carter and the great grizzly bear of the House.

Political Prisoners: United Nations Ambassador Andrew Young recently stirred up a controversy by claiming there are hundreds of political prisoners in U.S. jails. Now Rep. John Conyers, D-Mich., has called on House Judiciary Committee Chairman Peter Rodino, D-N.J., to hold hearings on human rights violations in the United States.

"The purpose of such an investigation," wrote Conyers in his private letter, "would be to define what constitutes human rights violations and interference with the criminal justice system."

We have studied the case, for example, of Ben Chavis, the leader of the Wilmington Ten. He was sent to jail for arson. But the case against him was flimsy. We are convinced it was really his civil rights activism that landed him in jail.

Conyers has now compiled a list of about 90 prisoners in this country who he claims are the victims of political oppression. The National Conference of Black Lawyers, meeting in New Orleans, also decided to compile a list. And the respected Amnesty International has put together its own list.

Perhaps the House Judiciary Committee will now begin looking into these cases.

Watch on Waste: One of Washington's most effective watchdogs on waste, Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis., has furnished us with a few of his findings.

The Air Force spent $18,799 of the taxpayers' money, for example, to replace 1,400 tons of sand in the sand traps at the Lackland Air Force Base golf course in Texas. The Air Force explained that the new sand was needed to rebuild sand traps that had been eroded by rainwater.

The National Transportation Safety Board spent $5,000 to replace its official seal. Officials explained that the old designs had an outdated Bicentennial look.

The National Institute on Mental Health commissioned a "Smorgasbord and Obesity" study. Seventeen hundred people were observed gorging themselves at four different ethnic smorgasbords. The researchers concluded that far more food is eaten at restaurants featuring smorgasbord than traditional menu service.

It cost the taxpayers $3,000 to learn this.

Schools Ready For Return On Thursday

By Linda S. Corbett

They'll all be back in their places next week, those Andover school youngsters "with bright smiling faces," as the rhyme goes.

For the majority, Thursday will be starting day, with high schoolers due in their rooms at 7:45 a.m. for the final bell, and junior high and elementary pupils by 7:35 and 8:30 respectively.

High school homeroom assignments, as well as those for East Jr. High 8th and 9th graders and West Jr. High 9th graders, appear in today's special school section. Assignments for the other junior high pupils have been mailed home to parents.

Seventh graders and high school sophomores, new to their schools this fall, will have a one-day jump on their schoolmates. They are to report at their bus stops at 8:15 a.m. Wednesday for Orientation Day. The buses will pick them up about noon to bring them home again.

During orientation they'll follow mock schedules, complete with cafeteria stops, and be introduced to teachers and staff. At the high school, tables will be set up in the gym for each club and fall sport, with advisers and coaches on hand to give information about their activities.

Newcomers at the elementary level, the kindergartners, will begin school on a staggered schedule, some Thursday, some Friday and some Monday. Parents have been informed by post card which day their youngsters will start, and any who have not been contacted should call the new central number — 470-1700 — and ask for their neighborhood school.

Morning kindergartners will be picked up with the older students at their appointed bus stops (Bus routes are also appear in today's special section). Most of them will be dropped off in front of their homes after 11:30, and most of the afternoon kindergartners will be picked up in front of their homes after 11:30, for the 12:30 p.m. session. They will return home with the older children after school.

Following the success of a trial "adjustment" program last year, 1st graders will once again attend only half a day for the first two weeks. They will stay for lunch and be transported home by special buses.

Teachers will have had a head start too, reporting at 9 o'clock Tuesday for a system-wide session led by Supt. Kenneth R. Seifert in the East Jr. High Auditorium. They'll then disperse for staff meetings and other organizational sessions at their respective buildings.

Wednesday they'll be working on their individual preparations for arrival of the pupils on Thursday.

Last Year For East?

Pupils entering East Jr. High this fall could be the last to experience it in its "dilapidated" state. If Spring

Towne Deli — the Housewife Organizer!

The hectic days of Fall are upon us. Woe to the "manager of the house" whose day starts early hustling to get the back-to-schoolers fed and off to the school bus on time. Next comes rustling up sustenance for the wage-earner so that he can make the car pool on time.

Then the fatigued let-down!

Before pursuing the rest of the days schedule take a Towne Deli break. It's a great organizer. Chat with neighbors over coffee and some breakfast goodies for which we are noted. Little by little your plans for the rest of the day will fall orderly into place.

Make your Towne Deli stop a regular one . . . it will help take the hectic out of your days.

Town Meeting approves renovation/building plans currently in the works, a massive renovation could begin as soon as school is out in the spring. Pupils of both junior highs would then go on double sessions at West Jr. High for School Year 1979-80, while construction continues.

Asst. Supt. Charles Mitsakos said this week that one of the concerns this school year is to develop some sort of out-of-school activities for youngsters during their "off" sessions the following year.

He added that some "sprucing up" has been done at East over the summer, but nothing that represents much of an investment.

130 Pupils Are Moved

Some 130 former West Elementary pupils are redistricted this year — about half each to Shawsheen and Sanborn Schools.

The move was mandated by the school committee to provide for better "consistency of services" at "over-utilized" West.

The pupils were informed last spring that they'd be moving, and were provided with orientation visits to their new schools before vacation began. Some 25 6th graders did opt to remain at West for their final elementary year.

Principal Eugene Frulla notes that

West now has two art and two music stations, whereas it previously had no art stations, and only one music session in the auditorium. The school also received language laboratory space and improved core space, and a special needs class of physically handicapped youngsters was returned from Sanborn.

Meanwhile, the Traditional Alternative housed at West gained one sixth grade, bringing it up to two sections of every grade level, and about 320 pupils overall. West's total enrollment is now about 800.

Combined Class At Shawsheen

A combination 2nd-3rd grade classroom at Shawsheen is another innovation that will be closely monitored this year.

The class was arranged because enrollments in both second and third grade were too high for one session, but two small for two.

Principal Isabel Dobbie recommended the combined class solution, and parents involved were informed at the end of the school last spring. They were invited to one briefing session earlier in the summer, and another this week.

Mitsakos said that the Andover elementary program, because of its individualized nature, particularly lends itself to this combination approach.

Student Parking Regulations

Parking privileges are offered this year to Andover High seniors and students in the work-study program. Those eligible may pick up their permit applications in the main office Tuesday.

All vehicles will have to be registered with the school and display the school parking sticker.

To Apply Basic Skills

Mitsakos, who came to Andover in March and is experiencing his first school start here, says the administration will be looking this year for application of the basic skills — particularly through development of a comprehensive writing program.

He said there is "no question" as far as he's concerned, coming from elsewhere, that Andover has done a "very fine job in developing and implementing a program of basic skills."

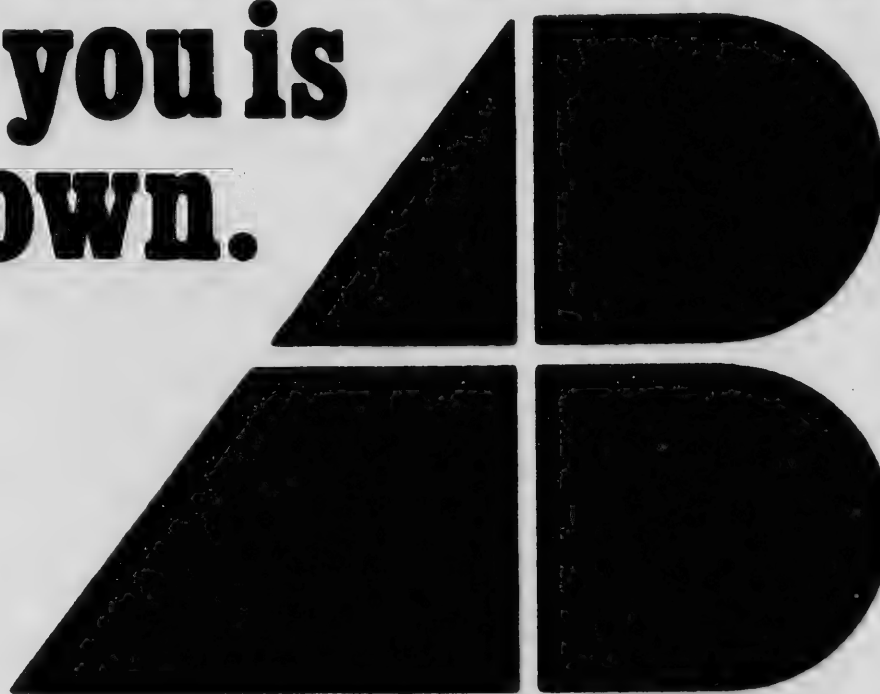

"We've achieved a very good level for most kids," he said, and added that the system would not stop teaching the skills.

"But," he said, "we'll begin to put them into action."

Reading Supervisor Theresa Murphy has developed a "white paper" that will serve as the basis of the comprehensive writing program. That paper will now be reviewed by a Language Arts Council — a group composed of teachers from each school — and a program developed.

Mitsakos said the goal is to encourage pupils to do more writing in the classroom, perhaps on a regular basis, and to offer more speaking opportunities at the elementary level.

"We're going to start using the language so the kids can see their skills in action," he said.

Doherty's Experient

A new "developmental primary unit" is being tried at Doherty this year, the result of a year-long study by teachers.

Eighteen youngsters who are "not quite ready" for first grade, but who have finished kindergarten, will be given near-individual attention while they "catch up with themselves."

Principal Lois Haslam says the program will give them the "gift of time" and that as they develop necessary skills, they will join their peers in the regular classroom.

She says many youngsters are "overplaced," and she feels this program will do away with the need for special services later on in their school careers.

Other New Areas

Another new area for the schools will be a health education program for grades K through 12. At its last meeting, the school committee hired Cecilia Lynch as a health resource teacher to develop a model.

The administration will also be reviewing diploma requirements and then will be studying Andover's approach to competency testing.

Finally, Mitsakos said, the system will be working on a program to teach more effective study habits. He said a pilot program would be available during the fall on a volunteer basis for upper elementary and junior high levels.

Media Supervisor Annette Freedman has been doing groundwork for the program over the summer.

Orientation Day Wednesday

The incoming seventh grade classes at the East and West Junior High Schools and the Andover High School tenth grade class will have their Orientation Day on Wednesday, Sept. 6. This program will begin at 9 a.m. and end at 12 noon.

Students are requested to report to their bus stops at 8:15 a.m. on Sept. 6 for transportation to the schools. The bus drivers will run their secondary routes in one continuous trip and they will pick up all students at 12 noon at the various schools.

Eligibility Criteria For Free Meals, Milk

The Andover Public Schools has announced a free milk and free meal and reduced price meal policy for school children unable to pay the full price of milk and meals served in schools under the National School Lunch and Special Milk Program. Local school officials have adopted a family size income criteria for use in determining eligibility and is available at the food services office.

Children from families whose income is at or below criteria are eligible for milk and meals free or at reduced prices.

In addition, families not meeting this criteria but with other special hardship conditions due to unusually high medical expenses, shelter costs in excess of 30 percent of income special education expenses due to the mental or physical condition of a child, and disaster or casualty losses are urged to apply.

Further, children having parents or guardians who become unemployed are eligible for free or reduced price meals or for free milk during the period of unemployment, provided that the loss of income causes the family income during the period of unemployment to be within the eligibility criteria.

Should income or family size change, contact the approving official.

The information provided on the application will be confidential and will be used only for the purpose of determining eligibility. In certain cases foster children are eligible for free milk and free meals or reduced price meals regardless of family income. If you have such children living with you and wish to apply for such milks and meals for them please file a separate application for each child and indicate amount of State support only as income.

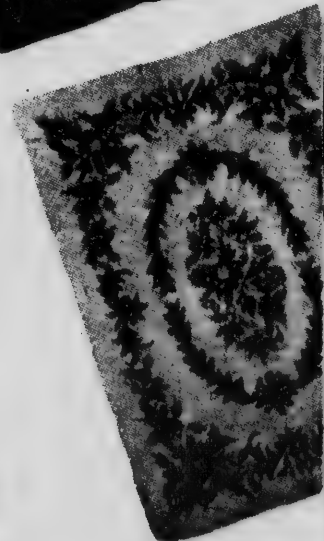

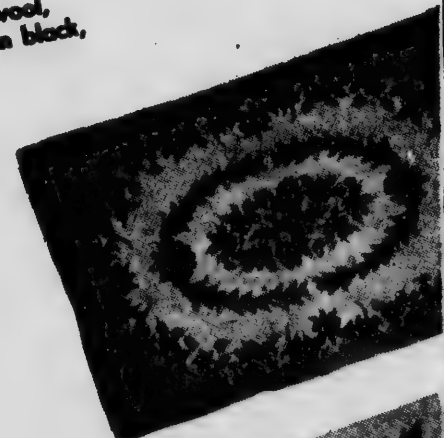

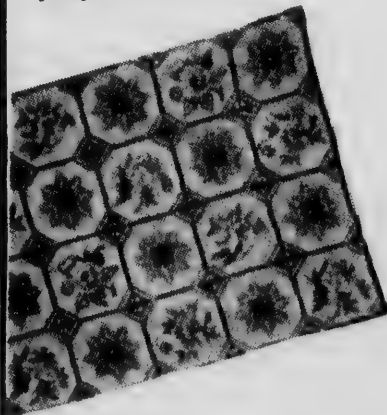

The policy also provides that there will be no overt identification and/or discrimination against any child because of his race, sex, color, national origin, in the operation of the child feeding program.

Applications will be sent home with each student the first day of school and must be returned as soon as possible.

Andover School Bus Code

With the beginning of another school year parents are urged to instruct their children on the contents of the Andover School Bus Code as adopted by the Andover School Committee.

Students who violate this code, violate the rights of other students on the bus and possibly subject these students to undue safety hazards. Everyone shares equally in the responsibility of maintaining proper discipline and safety on the school buses.

Students

1. Only authorized students may ride the bus.
2. Obey the driver in all matters pertaining to the operation of the school bus. The bus driver is the representative of parents and teachers and is directly responsible for the safety of each student on his bus.
3. Exercise courtesy towards others while loading, riding and leaving the bus.
4. Arrive at the bus stop on time and wait for the bus on the curb or shoulder off the road.
5. Cross highways and streets only in front of the bus. Move away from the front bumper of the bus approximately 6 - 8 feet so the bus driver can observe your crossing. Do not run or dash into street or roads without looking both ways even though the bus driver has traffic stopped.
6. Avoid trespassing on private property and being nosy.

7. Board the bus in an orderly manner when the bus has come to a full stop and the driver has opened the door.

8. Take your seat promptly and if you must stand, grasp a seat bar firmly.

9. Assignment of seats is left to the discretion of the bus driver and/or school authorities. However, if seat assignments are made compliance is mandatory.

10. Remain seated until the bus comes to a full stop, then leave in an orderly manner.

11. Allow standees off first once the school bus has come to a full stop.

12. Do Not Talk to the driver while the bus is in motion.

13. Avoid actions that might distract the driver and result in a serious accident.

14. Keep your voice low, no shouting, whistling, rough housing, pushing, fighting or throwing objects.

15. Do not extend arms or any other parts of your body out the windows. Do not throw any objects or spit out the bus windows.

16. Do not smoke on the bus.

17. Ask the driver's permission before opening the windows.

18. Help keep the bus clean and report anything damaged in the bus to the driver. Do not eat or chew gum on the bus.

19. Keep books/bundles out of the aisles and do not carry heavy objects on the bus that might cause injury to other students.

If you carry small animals on the bus for school projects, you are responsible for their containment while en route to and from school.

20. Ride your assigned bus and do not ask the driver to make unauthorized stops unless written permission is received from your parent and agreement is reached between the principal and bus driver.

21. Report any violation of these rules to your bus proctor, the bus driver or your teacher.

22. Violation of the above rules may result in suspension of your bus riding privilege.

Back-to-School Rules For Safer Driving

The morning rush hour will soon take on a new look for motorists as area schools open their doors.

The Automotible Club of Merrimack Valley reminds drivers that commuting to the office during school days, particularly just after classes resume, poses safety hazards not encountered in summer.

In its "School's Open, Drive Carefully" campaign, the AAA club urges motorists to exercise caution while driving in school zones, and to be extra alert when confronting these school-related traffic conditions:

Reduction in speed limits in school zones.

Crossing guards and safety patrols helping students cross streets.

Children on bicycles.

Children crossing unguarded streets.

Children walking on roadways.

Youngsters darting from between parked cars.

Toddlers on their way to school for the first time.

Parents stopping their cars in front of schools to let children off.

School buses stopped to load or unload pupils.

"School children are generally dependent on motorists to exercise safe driving practices," said David J.

Christensen, Executive Vice President. "Many youngsters tend to forget their pedestrian safety rules, especially if they're excited about a new school year."

The club also reminds parents to review safe walking rules with their children and map out the safest walking route to school. Parents should select the route with the least amount of traffic, fewest streets to cross and one with guarded intersections.

For parents who do drive their children to school, the club urges them to let youngsters off directly in front of school rather than on the street. Or select a less congested side street next to the school as a drop-off point.

One last reminder to drivers: when you approach a school bus that has stopped to load or unload pupils, you are required to stop your vehicle and remain stopped until children have crossed the street and the bus is moving again. This applies whether you are in front of or behind the bus, unless you're separated from the vehicle by a divided highway with a median strip.

The AAA club also points out that drivers should realize this rule may condition children to dart to front of a public bus and caution should be exercised here, too.

Health Tips Offered For Back To School

School days are at hand again for millions of American youngsters.

The American Medical Association once again reminds parents that there are health and safety considerations that are important in preparing the small fry for another nine months of studies.

The AMA recommends a thorough health examination for 5 and 6-year-olds entering school for the first time. Your physician will know what to do. His examination will cover all aspects of your child's health, and will include hearing (to make certain he can hear the teacher) and vision (to make sure he can see the blackboard). The doctor also will give any boosters immunizations that might be required.

School boards in some communities require a health exam for beginning students. Many schools also require certain immunizations. Your doctor will know of the requirements of your neighborhood.

Most doctors feel that four or five thorough health examinations during the school years are sufficient for healthy youngsters. These usually are spaced at the start of the first year, about the seventh grade, at the ninth or tenth grade, and upon graduation.

A thorough examination is important, often mandatory, if the child is participating in school athletics. The doctor should be told that junior is going out for football, so that he can look for any health problems that might be heightened by rough contact sports.

In the excitement of the first few days of school the small child may forget all of the safety warnings you've been teaching him. Each parent should make certain the child knows how to cross streets and intersections en route to and from school. He should know that crossing guards are there for his protection and obey them. He should know about proper deportment on the school bus. And he should know the rules of bicycle safety.

Making First Day Less Traumatic

The first day of kindergarten need not be a traumatic experience for either young children or their parents, according to a Wheelock College professor.

Mrs. Frances J. Perkins, associate professor of psychology, says parents can make the first day of school a positive experience by carefully letting their child know what he can expect to happen.

"It is important for parents to seek and answer questions about this mysterious thing called 'school' so their child will look forward to going to class — and not be fearful of the unknown," she says.

Mrs. Perkins, who has more than 25 years of experience teaching about and working with young children, offers six suggestions which can help make the first day of kindergarten a positive experience for your child:

Walk or drive past the school several times so as to initiate spontaneous questions and comments about the school. Listen carefully to questions and comments or notice the absence of both.

Convey the following ideas to your child: school is an important place; school is fun after you get to know what to do; your teacher likes boys and girls your age but she's different from mommy because she has many children to take care of at the same time.

Also, express your desire to have your child go to school to make new friends; to have the chance to play with many different kinds of materials, and to learn about so many interesting things in this world.

Generate genuine enthusiasm for your child's readiness for school by helping him perceive going to school as the next step in his development. Enumerate all his accomplishments in the last 4 to 5 years, concluding with satisfaction with his present readiness for this new experience.

Help your child to meet beforehand at least one other child who will be going to his school. In this way he will have a friend and there will be a familiar face on opening day.

Explain as many times as is necessary what his specific daily routine will be, starting with getting out of bed. Detail who will take him to school; how he will get there; what his teacher's name is, and some of the things he will be doing — playing with puzzles, singing songs, using crayons, playing with blocks, looking at books, etc.

Help him understand that his teacher wants him to enjoy school. Explain that sometimes he will have to help by telling the teacher what he needs or how he feels so the teacher can help him.

In summary, Mrs. Perkins says, accentuate the positive; keep an open mind and observe your child's reaction to school. Tension in young children often reveals itself through changes in eating, sleeping and elimination habits. If you notice any such changes make an appointment to talk to your child's teacher.

Talking to the teacher is sound procedure for working out any problem that arises, Mrs. Perkins says. "The degree to which the home and school can work cooperatively is the degree to which the child can receive maximum support and therefore develop optimally."

Attention B. and M.:

Shawsheen Is Not A Freight Yard

More problems facing Shawsheen residents cropped up this week when selectmen were apprised of a section of the area becoming practically a freight yard.

William Trainor, 16 Burnham Road, told selectmen that freight car switching goes on during late night and early morning hours causing considerable disturbance to the neighbors.

Trainor explained that the Boston and Maine about a year ago reduced their trackage in Andover from two sets to one, in an economy move.

Now, the forming of freights, takes place through the Shawsheen area, with trains backing up and forming all the way from the Lawrence yards.

Stopping and switching throughout the night and morning hours has prevented many residents from getting a night's sleep and is disturbing to the children in the neighborhood, Trainor said.

Trainor told of calling the president of the railroad and complaining about the noise and received the reply that the B and M owned the property and could do what they wished. He said he agreed, but added, that he, too, owned his own property, "but I can't blow a bugle in my back yard at 4 in the morning."

The Shawsheen resident emphasized that he and his neighbors were aware of the railroad abutting their property when they purchased it several years ago. He explained that the normal running of trains was anticipated and tolerable, but the present freight yard operations are not.

Selectmen said they would loom into the matter.

Trainor said he would provide any support needed, noting that some people are in the process of taping the noise at the early morning hours.

Funds Sought To Compromise Litigation

Approval of a request for a transfer from the reserve fund to allow the town manager to seek a compromise in litigation involving former school committeemen, was given by selectmen Monday night.

Meeting in executive session with Town Manager Jared S.A. Clark, the board gave a favorable nod toward requesting funds to settle the four-year-old suit involving former School Committeemen John F. Lyons, and John G. Wragg who were sued by former Assistant School Supt. Edward P. Regan.

The amount of the transfer request was not made known do to the case still being before the courts. Lyons and Wragg have appealed a Superior Court ruling which rejected their request for the town to pay their legal costs incurred in their defense against the Regan civil right suit.

Clark said Tuesday that the transfer is to enable the manager to settle the litigation. The town is not reaching a judgement of the merits of the case on either side, but trying to put this litigation behind us."

Lyons and Wragg have conferred with the manager, selectmen and finance committee with regard to legal costs incurred by them in the suit brought by Regan. Lyons, Wragg and former Committeeman George F. Olesen voted not to re-elect Regan to his assistant superintendent post in 1974.

A transfer of $6,000 has been made to the damages account by the finance committee, providing the manager with the opportunity to compromise the Regan portion of the suit. Regan sought damages of $150,000 from the school committeemen.

Monday night Donal W. Coleman appeared before the selectmen asking the board not to approve any payment to Regan. While he questioned the board and the manager on the reasoning behind the transfer for the purpose, neither the selectmen or the manager would give a reply since the matter is still pending before the court.

There will be two articles dealing with a proposed mosquito control project for the town at the October town meeting, through the efforts of Sharin Luti of Cross street and a group of concerned citizens.

Selectmen Monday night advised Mrs. Luti to seek the necessary signatures to have the articles inserted in the warrant. One asks that the town join the Essex County Mosquito Control Project and the other to have the town provide $3,000 worth of mosquito control work prior to the state-county agency beginning the work next July.

Mrs. Luti had petitions signed by over 1,100 residents from all areas of the town, not just West Andover, and presented proposed articles for insertion in the warrant.

But, as they did in July, selectmen advised Mrs. Luti to get the items on the October agenda through the petition route — presenting to the town clerk the articles signed by 100 registered voters.

The board generally felt that such an issue should be presented via the petition route, rather than inserting it in the warrant at citizen request.

Mrs. Luti said she had talked with DPW Director Robert E. McQuade about mosquito control programs for the town and had found that if the town undertook such a program on its own, the cost would be $45,000.

But, if the state, through the Essex County regional project were to undertake mosquito control, it would be $37,380 annually through a deduction on the town's cherry sheets. Andover would have to make a three-year commitment.

Problem with the county project is that it is based on a fiscal year and would not begin until next July, if the town approved joining in October. Therefore, some $3,000 would be needed for mosquito control work by the town in the spring.

Mrs. Luti explained that the county project is considered best, since they are experts, have the latest equipment and up to date, safe methods of treating communities for mosquito control.

She also explained that most of the spraying work is done after midnight — a time which would not cause damage to such as birds and beekeepers. Actual work on controlling the insects takes place all year long, she said, through various operations at appropriate periods, to effectively curb the mosquito population.

Selectman James Abramson questioned Mrs. Luti as to whether she had contacted the conservation commission and AVIS to see if they would permit treatment of their holdings. Abramson said that while he was in favor of providing some relief for the mosquito problem, he felt that with these two groups not allowing spraying on their properties, representing 37 per cent of the town, any program would be ineffective.

Mrs. Luti asked the selectmen if they would place the articles in the warrant for her, and received a negative reaction. She asked if the selectmen were not sympathetic, as community leaders, to what people want, referring to the petitions, already signed.

Selectmen Susan T. Poore said that to understand town meeting, is to understand

Getting Signatures

Working on obtaining sufficient voter signatures to insure placing two items in the October town meeting warrant dealing with mosquito control are, from left, Sharin Luti, Rita Kirk and Sandy Bertetti.

Public Service And The Democratic Process

Somewhere along the line here in Andover, public service by elected officials (selectmen) and the Democratic process seems to have become confused.

For the past several weeks a group of citizens concerned about mosquitoes have been trooping around town seeking sufficient signatures to place an article in the October town meeting warrant.

The petitions were a direct result of the citizens being informed back in July that if they wanted to be sure the item would be on the October agenda, it was advisable to do it via the signature route. Selectmen would give them no assurance that mosquito control be placed in the warrant by inserting it themselves.

This week, the group, despite having over 1,100 signatures, found the selectmen still reluctant to assist them in placing an item in the warrant, the result being they will be on the streets again getting the necessary number of signatures.

Sharin Luti, who is among those spearheading the drive for mosquito control in Andover, was informed that the petition route was best, since it represented the true democratic process.

Frankly, we don't buy that, and are convinced that as public servants, elected officials, the selectmen well could insert the two articles being promoted by mosquito control advocates.

There is little doubt the sponsors can get the signatures.

That's not the point.

Selectmen could waive the need for the signatures and insert the articles on their own, without taking a stand now, or at town meeting.

If the petitioners were seeking a special town meeting for this one issue, our feelings might be different. But there is to be a town meeting in October, special by stature, but an annual event in Andover.

As such, selectmen should be willing to assist these citizens by placing the items on the warrant, "without prejudice."

Planned now, according to Mrs. Luti, are two articles, one to ask voters to approve joining the Essex County Mosquito Control project, another to seek $3,000 for institution of a program by the town before the county service can begin next July.

Mrs. Luti has not asked the selectmen to support the articles, although such would be desirable. She is simply asking for assistance in getting on the October agenda.

Not only has the simple warrant insertion procedure been frustrating enough, but the proponent was subjected to considerable questioning, some in an advisory capacity by selectmen.

Some wanted to know if the Conservation Commission and AVIS had been contacted about spraying. Others wanted to know if the signators had been informed of the cost of the program.

There were other questions, all of which Mrs. Luti was informed, the board would like answered before they would consider taking a stand.

We're sure the advocates will have ample answers before town meeting and are more than willing to enlighten the selectmen.

But, aren't the selectmen in a better position to seek the answers themselves through official channels?

The advocates are well aware that the issue is controversial, even an 'emotional' concern, as they were reminded Monday night. No doubt their path en route to getting the signatures has had adherents and opponents.

They, we are sure, don't anticipate the items to get an express route at town meeting, and are prepared for debate.

Based on the efforts of Mrs. Luti and her group, we are assured that mosquito control will be an issue at the October town meeting.

We are just a little disturbed that the route they have had to follow to get on the agenda is as frustrating as the insects they are attempting to eradicate.

Questionable Mosquito Control

To the Editor of the TOWNSMAN:

This past Saturday, I was "bugged" by two young ladies who wanted me to sign a petition for mosquito control. They pointed out that their proposal would "only" amount to 25¢ on the tax rate.

I don't know exactly what kind of program they have in mind, but it seems obvious that anything over and above the program of the Essex County Mosquito Control program would entail large scale spraying.

If we country people have learned anything over the past thirty years, it is that chemical eradication of mosquitoes is impossible, costly, and counterproductive — as well as hazardous to ourselves and the environment. I defy anyone to show me one single rural or suburban area where mosquitoes have been eradicated.

I would like to remind my fellow townspeople of a few facts:

1. To do anything at all, spraying must be done at the height of the bird nesting season in the early spring. Bird mortality under such programs is always great, and reducing bird populations only leaves more mosquitoes to reproduce.

2. A great many conservationists in town are going to withhold permission to spray their property. They have that right. This, of course, greatly reduces the effectiveness of a spraying program.

3. Every four or five years there seems to be more rain than usual with the result that it is a banner year for mosquitoes. The newer people in town immediately think the solution is to spray poison over the yards, woods, fields, reservoir, and the wetlands that feed it. They totally ignore the fact their very own children play in these yards, woods and fields, and will drink the water from the reservoir.

Every day you can pick up a newspaper and read about some previously believed safe chemical now proven to cause cancer, or some other malady. Insect bites have no long-term damaging effect. Can you say the same for insecticides?

Ruthers Cap Season With Title

By Rick Harrison

With exceptional pitching performances from Bob Heidt and Fred Foote once again leading the way, the Andover Babe Ruth baseball team capped an outstanding 1978 season by winning the Greater-Lawrence League playoff championship last weekend at Mark Devlin Field.

The playoff format this season consisted of a round-robin series of games among five teams. Each participant remained alive until it had suffered three losses.

Andover chalked up a 5-1 record under the triple-elimination system, losing its first game before winning the last five in succession.

The opener saw pesky South Lawrence East register a taut 1-0 triumph over the locals, with the lone run coming on a bases-loaded passed ball in the fifth inning.

The championship run began with a 9-6 win over South Lawrence West, as Andover pitchers Fred Foote, Steve Rathbun and Ed Powers combined for a two-hitter.

Andover nudged Tower Hill 11-8 in eight innings. Jon Pelletier and Rathbun combined for a three-hitter, but walks and the locals' only poor defensive effort of the playoffs kept the game close.

Andover then slipped past prospect hill, 2-0, as ace lefthander Bob Heidt tossed a brilliant four-hit shutout and Steve Rathbun singled home the only two runs in the bottom of the sixth inning.

The champs battled into the finals with a lopsided 17-1 romp over South Lawrence East. Ed Powers fired a crisp two-hitter and the Andover offense slammed 16 hits around the Stadium.

The title game against Tower Hill was a gem, as ace righthander Fred Foote fashioned a masterful two-hit shutout and Jon Pelletier's clutch two-out RBI single in the sixth keyed a 1-0 Andover victory.

Tower Hill closed with a 3-3 record, Prospect Hill was 3-3, South Lawrence East 2-3 and South Lawrence West bowed out early at 0-3.

In the six games Andover pitchers Heidt, Foote, Powers, Pelletier and Rathbun surrendered only 16 hits. All but two of those safeties were singles, and three of them were infield hits.

Andover, meanwhile, slammed 48 hits

Jon Pelletier
...clutch RBI single clinches title and registered a team batting average of exactly .300 in the playoffs.

Steve Rathbun led the well-balanced stack with a .500 average (10-for-20), while other top playoff hitters were Wayne Merola at .417, Bob Heidt at .353, Jon Pelletier at .353, Fred Foote at .333, Jeff Demers at .333, Tim Grams at .278 and Ed Powers at .278.

The locals also received some excellent defensive play from infielders Rathbun, Jake Powell, Matt Wells, Ted Kelley, Jeff Demers and Fred Foote. In the outfield, Jon Pelletier and Tim Grams both made several superb catches.

SLE, 1-0

The playoff's opened on a disappointing and frustrating note for Andover, as South Lawrence East notched its 1-0 decision.

Bob Heidt couldn't have pitched much better, allowing three singles, walking three and striking out seven. He threw just 75 pitches.

East righthander Matt Callahan, the only pitcher to shut out Andover in its 33 games this summer, was equally shart as he scattered three hits, walked five and whiffed five.

Callahan blanked Andover 4-0 on a two-hitter June 21, and also pitched well in a 2-0 loss to the locals July 24.

SLE mounted just one threat in the game. Heidt had faced only 13 batters over the first four innings. Leadoff hitter Bernie Conway walked in the first, was sacrificed to second and died there. Conway singled in the third, but was cut down stealing from catcher Ted Kelley to second baseman Jeff Demers.

Andover, which left eight runners stranded, stirred around in the first when Rathbun and Heidt walked. In the second Foote hammered a long double to left, Tim Grams legged out an infield hit, and Kelley bunted them both into scoring position. Callahan worked free after a popup and groundout, however.

Leadoff walks to Demers and Rathbun keyed another Andover threat in the fifth, but again Callahan was tough when he had to be.

Callahan opened the SLE fifth with a walk, and consecutive one-out singles by Rob Hamilton and Steve Rourke (bunt) loaded the bases. The passed ball followed, and that proved to be the game.

Heidt ended the contest with a flourish, striking out the last four batters he faced and five of the final six.

A walk to Pelletier started Andover's last threat in the sixth. Foote sacrificed him to second and he took third on a passed ball. Grams then lined a shot to third baseman Steve Rourke, who turned it into an inning-ending DP.

The locals put two men on base in the seventh but failed to score.

Andover, 9-6

Andover bounced back with a 9-6 victory over South Lawrence West, grabbing the lead in the first inning and never trailing although 11 walks by three pitchers made things interesting.

Fred Foote started and pitched 3-2/3 innings of no-hit ball, but nine walks led to his early exit. Steve Rathbun faced two batters and also displayed control problems. Ed Powers came on as the third hurler and picked up the victory with 3-1/3 frames of sharp two-hit relief.

A pair of SLW errors and an RBI single by Rathbun boosted Andover to a 2-0 lead against losing lefty Tim Bradley in the first.

With two down in the second Matt Wells singled, Jon Pelletier singled and Tim Grams walked to load the bases. Bob Heidt followed with a short infield single to score two runs. West second baseman Tim O'Rourke made an excellent diving stop to prevent the ball from going into rightfield, but he had no play.

The score jumped to 7-0 in the top of the fourth after Heidt and Rathbun drilled run-scoring singles to rightfield.

SLW netted five runs without a hit in the bottom of the fourth, sending 11 men to the plate and parlaying six walks, two hit batsmen and a wild pitch into the big inning. All the damage was done after Foote walked the bases loaded and then whiffed the next two hitters.

Andover collected a pair of insurance runs in the sixth to make it 9-5. Ted Kelley reached on an error, Jeff Demers singled sharply to leftfield, and Pelletier lashed a single to center. Grams' sacrifice fly chased home one run, and Heidt picked up his fourth RBI of the game with his third single.

The Foote-Rathbun-Powers trio lost their no-hitter in the sixth when Lou Bosse beat out an infield chopper.

The final West run came in the seventh. Mike Hackney led with a solid single to centerfield, took second on a wild pitch, third on an infield out, and scored on another wild pitch.

Heidt finished the game 3-for-4, while Rathbun and Pelletier were both 2-for-4, Pelletier, Grams, Heidt and Matt Wells scored two runs apiece.

Ted Kelley was a defensive standout at third base for the winners.

Andover, 11-8

After squandering 5-0 and 8-3 leads, the locals hung tough and pushed across three eighth inning runs to outlast eventual finalist Tower Hill, 11-8.

Jon Pelletier worked four excellent shutout innings before errors put him in trouble during the fifth. When he was lifted for Steve Rathbun, Pelletier had pitched hitless ball, walked four and fanned six.

More spotty fielding and his own wildness kept Rathbun in hot water, but Steve struggled through and earned the victory to boost his record to 3-2.

Andover grabbed a 1-0 edge in the second when Rathbun singled and circled the bases on Pelletier's hit-and-run RBI double down the rightfield line.

Wayne Merola walked, took third on an error, and scored the second run by stealing home in the third stanza.

The score jumped to 5-0 in the fourth. After two were out Pelletier walked, Fred Foote singled him to third, and TH starter Brian Toohey talked for one run. Ed Powers' grounder was misplayed for a run, and he later crossed on Ted Kelley's infield single.

TH rebounded with three unearned runs in the fifth, taking advantage of two errors, a pair of walks and Brian Toohey's RBI single to leftfield.

Locals retaliated with three in the sixth to make it 8-3. Steve Rathbun beat out an infield single, stole second, and scored on Fred Foote's long double to centerfield. Ed Powers then doubled home Foote and scored himself on a passed ball.

TH netted three runs in the bottom of the sixth on two walks, two more errors and Ken Muse's single. They tied it with

To a businessman, fire is a devastating experience. Most businesses suffering a major fire don't survive more than a year afterwards. Generally the company is paid for the fire damage, but the rebuilding or relocation expense can be fatal.

May we suggest the following: BUSINESS INTERRUPTION INSURANCE, to pay for lost income while your company rebuilds. EXTRA EXPENSE INSURANCE to pay the other heavy expenses incurred in carrying on the business.

two in the seventh on two walks, one error, a hit batsman and Marty Healy's single.

Fred Foote saved the game in the bottom of the seventh. With two down and TH runners perched at first and third, the Andover shortstop made a diving stop of Pete Mical's grounder ticketed for centerfield. He then dove for the second base bag, touching it with his glove to force the runner by a step and send the game into extra innings.

Mark Vachon, TH's third pitcher, opened the eighth by fanning the first two Andover batters. Wayne Merola then legged out an infield hit and stole second. Jake Powell and Bob Heidt walked. A pair of wild pitches brought in two runs, Steve Rathbun walked, and Jon Pelletier laced an RBI single.

Rathbun sealed the victory by retiring TH on a popup, a flyout and a strikeout in the bottom of the eighth.

Fred Foote, Rathbun and Pelletier sparked the 11-hit Andover attack with two safeties each while Merola, Powers, Rathbun and Foote scored two runs apiece.

Amidst all the defensive chaos came good fielding plays by Ted Kelley at third and Powell at second base.

Andover, 2-0

Bob Heidt finished a phenomenal year on the mound with a four-hit shutout victory over Prospect Hill, walking just two and striking out four.

The shutout was his sixth of the season, an Andover Babe Ruth team record, and it marked Heidt's 10th straight complete game of the campaign. Bob allowed only three earned runs in 73 innings for an incredible 0.29 E.R.A.

In those 73 stanzas he struck out 66 and walked 30.

Heidt, whose final record was 7-2-1, did not allow an earned run over the last 34 innings he pitched and permitted just one unearned tally during that time.

Prospect Hill mounted two serious scoring threats, loading the bases in both the second and sixth frames.

In the second Steve Zahn reached on a one-out infield error, Kevin Zahn drew a two-out walk, and Mike Ferris followed with a single to centerfield. Elbie Alba then grounded out to second baseman Jake Powell to end the inning.

In the sixth Paul Bell reached on an error, Kevin Lacroix singled, and both advanced on a wild pitch. The count went to 3-0 on Kevin Zahn, who was given ball four intentionally, and with two down Ferris bounced out to shortstop Fred Foote.

PH hard-luck losing pitcher Paul Bell (0-3 vs. Andover), who fired a three-hitter, coasted into the bottom of the sixth on a one-hit shutout. Steve Rathbun's two-out single down the leftfield line in the fourth had been the only safety, and the only other runners were Wayne Merola and Bob Heidt on first inning walks.

With one out in the sixth Merola lined a sharp single to centerfield, and with the hit-and-run on Tim Grams bounced the ball to the mound. Bell threw to second too late and both runners were safe. A two-out double steal put them in scoring position, and Rathbun followed with a clutch two-run single to left.

Heidt breezed through the top of the seventh 1-2-3 as Andover completed a 5-0 sweep of the season series against Prospect Hill.

Rathbun finished the game 2-for-3 at the plate.

Tim Grams opened the contest with a dazzling diving catch of Phil Messina's sinking liner in left-centerfield, while shortstop Foote and second baseman Powell also starred defensively.

Andover, 17-1

South Lawrence East, coming off a heartbreaking 4-3 loss in 10 innings to Tower Hill the previous night and short on quality pitchers, collapsed in the semifinal showdown as Andover unleashed a 16-hit barrage against four hurlers.

Ed Powers, notching his second victory of the playoffs, allowed only two hits, walked just one and struck out three.

East, which split the season series with Andover 3-3, took a 1-0 lead in the second. Matt Callahan drew a one-out walk, advanced to second on a wild pitch, and scored when Paul Pizzuto smashed a long double to left-centerfield.

Andover pulled even in the bottom of the second when Fred Foote singled home Steve Rathbun, who had walked.

The winners batted around and scored five times in the third. With one out Wayne Merola walked and Tim Grams doubled. Two runs scored when Bob Heidt's sharp grounder was misplayed, and Rathbun followed with a triple rescuing Heidt.

Rathbun trotted home on an error. With two down Foote walked, stole second and scored on Ed Powers' single.

The champs tacked on five runs in the fourth to hike the lead to 11-1. Heidt banged an RBI single, Rathbun singled, Jon Pelletier had a two-run single, Foote lofted a long sacrifice fly to centerfield, and Powers singled home a run.

A six-run fifth closed out the assault as 12 batters paraded to the plate. Two-run singles by Foote and Grams highlighted the last uprising, while other safeties were stroked by Ted Kelley, Heidt, Rathbun and Powers.

Powers, meanwhile, retired the last 10 SLE batters in order and permitted only three balls to be hit out of the infield in the game.

Rathbun finished 3-for-4, scoring four runs and driving in two. Powers was 3-for-4 with two RBI, Foote went 2-for-2 and collected four RBI, Heidt stroked two hits and scored three runs, and Grams had two hits, two RBI and two runs scored.

Defensive standouts were Matt Wells at second base and Jake Powell at third, both of whom led the errorless contest by handling four chances flawlessly.

Steve Rourke added a first inning single to Pizzuto's double for East.

Title Game

Andover, 1-0

Fred foote pitched a brilliant two-hit shutout, and Jon Pelletier lashed a two-out single to leftfield in the top of the sixth inning to chase home Tim Grams with the only run in the game, as Andover captured the 1978 Greater-Lawrence League playoff championship with its 1-0 conquest of Tower Hill.

The shutout was Foote's third, boosting his league record to 6-1 and his overall mark to 7-1. He walked two and fanned three in the title game; throwing 68 pitches.

During the season Fred hurled six complete games, allowing only 13 earned runs in 64 innings for a 1.42 E.R.A. He also surrendered just 28 hits.

The victory over TH in the title clash gave Andover a 5-0 sweep of the season series, although every game was close (1-0, 2-0, 3-0, 4-2 and 11-8).

Foote, who allowed only five balls to be hit out of the infield, and Tower Hill lefthander Brian Toohey.

Foote faced just 24 batters, three over the minimum for a seven-inning game, and TH never advanced a runner beyond second base.

Toohey, who pitched the Greater-Lawrence 13-year-old All-Stars into the New England Tournament this summer, and seventh inning reliever Ken Muse combined on a six-hitter. Toohey walked four and fanned four.

Tim Grams led the pivotal sixth with a looping single to rightfield, took second on Bob Heidt's sacrifice bunt, and advanced to third on Steve Rathbun's groundout to first base.

Pelletier then drilled his hard single to leftfield on a one-strike pitch, collecting his fifth RBI of the six-game playoff series.

Andover threatened in the second, when

RABBIT DIESEL.
DRIVE THE
HIGHEST MPG CAR IN AMERICA.

Start 'er up and you may be in for a surprise. Because the most astonishing news about our economy car isn't the economy. It's the car. For example: Are you the kind of person who enjoys zipping from 0 to 50 in a mere 11.5 seconds? Well, you'll be ecstatic in a Rabbit. In fact, it's already set 31 world records for Diesels.

Another example: room. Open the hatch, and (amazingly!) there's more trunk space than a Cadillac Seville. Fold down the rear seat and (shockingly!) there's almost as much cargo room as some station wagons.

Then open the door. Your eyes don't deceive you. It has more people room than 40 other cars you could buy.

What's more, you should be thrilled to know diesel fuel costs about 10¢ a gallon less than gasoline. Diesel engines hardly ever need regular tune-ups. And to top it all, a Rabbit Diesel won top honors in the latest EPA mileage tests with 53 MPG highway, 40 MPG city.

(EPA Estimates. Actual mileage may vary with how and where you drive, optional equipment and your car's condition.)

Now, how can you resist a test drive in a car like that?

Footo drew a two-out walk and raced to third on Ed Powers' hit-and-run single. Powers stole second, but Toohey fanned the next batter on a 3-2 serve.

In the third Wayne Merola walked and stole second, his 31st stolen base in league play this season, but he was left stranded.

Toohey, who helped himself considerably by picking three Andover runners off first base, pitched out of another jam in the seventh when Powers was nailed at home trying to score on Jeff Demers' safety squeeze bunt.

Dave Fazio led the TH third with a sharp double down the rightfield line, but was erased trying to take third base on Muse's one-hopper back to Footo.

In the TH fourth Mark Vachon reached on a fielder's choice and took second on a botched pickoff attempt. He was left stranded, however.

Bill Toohey led the losers' fifth with a line single to leftfield. Fazio bunted and both runners were safe when the throw to second went wide. Footo fanned the next batter, and Muse followed by grounding into a crisp Demers to Rathbun to Heidt doubleplay.

Footo retired the final eight batters in order. Jon Pelletier made a nice shoetop grab against Pete Mical to start the bottom of the sixth, and Vachon ended the inning with a vicious liner directly at leftfielder Tim Grams.

It was another excellent defensive game all-around for the champs, as shortstop Rathbun handled 13 chanced (9 putouts, four assists) without an error. Tim Grams made a fine running catch in foul territory against Marty Healy, and Wayne Merola gunned down Mark Crockroft trying to steal second base.

SOME BENEFITS OF AGE

If you want more house for your dollar, you have good cause to look over older houses.
But there are other good reasons for shopping the old ones too.

For one thing, there are simply more old houses than new ones.
For every new house that will go up this year there are some 45 existing homes already on the market.

Many older homes, especially those built before World War II, offer more abundant space than new homes do — a special attraction if you have a large and growing family, but a limited budget.

Most old homes are in well-established, well-developed neighborhoods. There will be no waiting for streets to be paved, sewers to be connected or schools to be built.
All that is going to grace the neighborhood is probably already there, so that worrying about the future will have been done for you already.

If there is anything we can do to help you in the field of real estate, please phone or drop in at THE HOWE AGENCY, 4 Punchard Ave., Andover. Phone: 475-5100.
We're here to help.

the democratic process and petitioning, is the manner in which items get on the agenda.

Selectman Abramson said he would not want to put the item in the warrant unless he favored and at least had more information that at present.

Soccer On School Board Agenda

if she had informed those who signed the petitions about the possible costs to the town, and received an affirmative reply. Mrs. Cole pointed out that the total cost for the county program over a three-year period would be over $110,000, through cherry sheet deductions.

Mrs. Cole also advised that the selectmen insert articles at the request of town departments, but no request had been forthcoming on mosquito control.

Mrs. Poore then added that mosquito control is a highly emotional issue, similar to the dog leash law, which has been debated at the past three town meetings. She said she would be happy to put the item in the warrant, but as of the moment, felt the petition route was best.

Mrs. Luti pointed out that in 1972 selectmen inserted the article at citizen's request, but it failed to sway the present board.

In July when Mrs. Luti and her group appeared at a conference session with selectmen, she was advised that the petition route would be the best assurance that the matter would be considered.

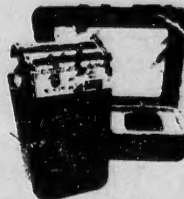

There is little doubt there will be sufficient signatures on the petitions to be presented to Town Clerk Elden R. Salter by Sept. 15 to insure that mosquitoes will be a highlight of the October town meeting.
